The Slava is a vessel of 13,516 tons, which was laid down in 1902. Three sister ships were sunk in the battle of the Sea of Japan on May 27, 1905. A fourth was captured the next day and is now the Japanese Iwami. Few additional details of the battle in the Guif of Riga are available in Petrograd as the Russian staff is strongly opposed to publication of information regarding naval activity, says the Post's correspondent in the Russian capital. He hints that the result was almost a surprise even to the naval authorities.
